ALTROVGE the report submitted at the annual meeting of the Hongkong Chamber of Commerce dealt with a variety of subjectswas certainly well founded and reasonable. "If," said the Mr. Jourson, "the members " of the Chambur do not take a keen and active "welfare I do not see how they can expect justice in this remark, and we hope it may Laura not be without its effect in the future. The The plot is simple. Young Fitzjiggins has fallen and arises from several causes. In the first place they have met with so many discouragements from the Authorities, both here and at home, when endeavouring to force burning questions into notice that they have, all demonstrations as useless-they are jury done to the native trade of the Colony by the Blockade maintained by the Haiksure to devote to matters not immediately ably filled their respective parts, whilst the amif we mistake not, a feeling has grown up as Dampley and Spoutling was very great. But this laister faire system, however flattering to the abilities and energy of the Committee, is not satisfactory to them, as was evident from the tone of the Chairman's opening speech. If the Committee, without fee or reward, devote their time and talents to the conduct of correspondence and the compilation of a lengthy report, surely the members may be expected to attend the meeting and by their vote, if not their criticisms, strengthen the

decisions and emphasize the opinions recorded by the Chamber. It has often, and justly, been complained that the Hongkong community have practically no voice in the administration of local affairs, and this constitutes a most excellent reason why the power and influence of the Chamber of Commerce should be carefully maintained. and efforts made to "give its expressions of opinion weight with the Authorities. It is not sufficient that the votes should be animous: they should represent as nearly as possible the entire body of members. It will not do for our representative men to grow weary for want of recognition of their representations and by reason of delays in the redress of grievances agitated. We must keep pegging away until the desired result is attained, the evils effectually removed. And if the great question of the Blockade seems for this part consisted of the garden of Gruffin's still insoluble, there are other matters that | house and the entrance to the house, which were meantime call for attention, and which may more hopofully bograppled. Among these the question of representation in London still remains to be settled; the opium trade between India and China, the Bankrupter law of Hongkong, &c., have occupied the Committee and may demand further attention. the whole performance was most completely is published in Two Forms-Complete at $5; At the same time much useful work has been due by the Committee during the past mount before the curtain at the close and year in criticising the yet unratified treaty greeted with an ovation. between England and Kores, refuting the libels of Sir John Pope Hennessy upon the Colony, and exposing a glaring misstatement made by the Pall Mall Gazette with regard to Chinese trade here. AMATEUR THEATRICAL PERFORM- 1881, he mortgaged the same to Captain Webb ANOE AT CANTON.

The members of the Canton Amateur Drama tic Society gave their fourth performance for this season on Wednesday evening, when a very pleasant evening's entertainment was afforded to the Shumean community. The pretty little Concordia Theatre was made additionally bright and agreeable by a good display of pot plants in stalments on account of the interest amounting bloom. Unfortunately the weather was very inelement, and no doubt this had the effect of deterring several from setting out for the Theatre each of considerable importance to this mer- but perertheless there was a good attendance, to collect the reats, and in March of the cantile community—there was but little dis- and the audience appeared to heartily enjoy the cussion upon it. He convenanted to pay interest on that amount up to the 19th November, 1882, at the rate of ten per cent. per annum by equal monthly instalments, and after that date to go on paying interest monthly at the same rate if the principal was not repaid at that time, the 19th February last there was due for interest from the date of the mortgage $875, and the mort agee had also paid $96 for insurance. The mortgagee had received up to July, 1882, into $407.99. After that date no further interest was paid. In October last year a suit for foreclosure was instituted, but had not yet come on for hearing. The mortgages appointed a person present year he received $59.40, but it apseared there was great difficulty in interest and insurance was $503 61. The defendant stated that on receiving the writ in the foreclosure suit he saw Mr. Johnson, and Mr. Johnson told him that if he would pay the interest then due, and assign the equity of redemption to the plaintiff, the matter would be settled, and the defendant was apparently under the impression that he was not liable for interest ofter that date, but the suggested arrange-

Although it has been proved couclusively that the railway would be of immense advantage to this country above all others, and although English statesmen have recommended the making of this shortest of roads to India. still the Liberal vis inertime in matters regarding the development and safety of the empire has not been overcome, and if the line be made no credit ther fore, will be also to the prise has some to the promotors have doubt directly with the Porte. It is true that the Ottoman Government has not entertained the idea of the construction of a railway from the shores of the Mediterranean to the Persian Gulf, but it has approved of a section of the line, from near Tripoli to Alepno. The Sultan has not signed the concession giving his permission and a grant of the laud, but doubtless he will only be too glad to belp forward a company for developing the resources of the empire in Syria; for it is proposed to colonise, the waste but ferrile conner wiong the proposed line by Jewish immigrants from Russia and Poland. Mr. Cazalet, having obtained the concurrence of the Turkish Ministers, not unnaturally expects the consent of the Sultan. It is greatly to be hoped that no unlooked for difficulties will intervene. We must remember, however, that the fast and loose treatment of: Turkey by England has, to say the least of it. loosened the bonds of friendship between the two countries, and Englishmen and English companies may not be regarded at Constantinople with the same favour as of old. The railway from Tripoli to Aleppo may be considered as the thin end of the worker. If that line be made, and if it prove successful, then it will be a mere, matter of time as regards its extension.

Following the right or southern bank of that river, it proceeds to the town of Hit, not far from Bagdad, to which there would be a branch crossing the Euphrates. From Hit the line would ran down the valley to Grane, at the head of the Persian Gulf. Eventually, no doubt, the railway would be extended along the Persian shore of the guif to Beluchistan, and so on to connect with the Indian railway system; and this line would be nearly parallel to a Russian one from the Caspien to Afghanistan. When it is desired to forward letters to the United States by a sailing ship which is not notified as carrying a mail, it is only necessary to post the letters in the ordinary way, marked with the name of the ship, and prepaid 10 cents per half ounce as usual. The Post Office then undertakes the duty of obtaining notice of departure and despatching the correspondence. It is requested that the letters be posted if possible at least one day before the date fixed for sailing;

Persona who send Musters of Tea through the Post in Tins are requested to have them made flat or square instead of round, as it is impossible to pack round tine securely in the mail bags. It is believed that the ten will traval more safely in flat tins, which are not so liable as round ones to be bulged in. 4 by 8 by 11 inches is suggested as a good
